Personnel change in the Management Team of C&A Europe – Martijn van der Zee to leave the company

Düsseldorf, 7 February 2022 – C&A is announcing today that after decades of dedicated service, Martijn van der Zee, Chief Merchandise & Sustainability Officer of C&A Europe, will be leaving the company as of Monday, February 7th, 2022, to pursue new opportunities. Martijn van der Zee joined the company in 1992. Since March 2016, he has been a Member of the Management Board of C&A Europe. “I am grateful that Martijn with his long C&A experience supported the onboarding of the new leadership team” says CEO Giny Boer.

In his time with C&A, van der Zee fulfilled various functions and roles, including key positions as Head of Regional Marketing at C&A Netherlands (2008-2010), Director of Buying at C&A Europe (2010-2016) and Chief Merchandise & Sourcing Officer (2016-2021). Since July 2021, van der Zee was also responsible for sustainability at C&A Europe as Chief Merchandise & Sustainability Officer.

The successor of Martijn van der Zee will be announced in due course. In the meantime, his responsibilities will be taken over by the C&A Management Team.

C&A would like to thank Martijn van der Zee for his contributions, dedication and passion for the company and the fashion business and wishes him all the best in his next endeavour.
